

BOB THE BLOB

Originally, this pet had no name. And no shape. And no personality. No, wait, that's not true. Actually, Bob's personality is very well defined: He is eager to please. That's why he lets us call him Bob, and that's why he will be whatever you want him to be.

During phase 3, before drawing cards (and even before using the Crystal Ball), choose one color: green, red, yellow, or purple. All of Bob's gray bars will become that color for this round. So you will draw the appropriate number of Need Cards of that color and assign Need Cards of that color to Bob. Only the bars on the wheel are changed; you can still assign accessories to give Bob extra bars in the accessories' colors. You may choose a different color for Bob each round, but once the color is chosen it remains fixed until the end of the round.

During phase 4, when showing off Bob the Blob, choose whether Bob eats meat or vegetables. For the rest of the round Bob will be either a carnivore or an herbivore. You may make a different choice every round, but you can never choose for Bob to be an omnivore.
